II. FOREWORD BY NGEN CHAIRPERSON

During the financial year 2013/2014, the Government of Kenya allocated the National Gender and Equality Commission Kenya Shillings 234,026,000 against a costed work plan of Kenya Shillings 721,344,000. In the same period, the commission received one commissioner appointed by the president into office on 4th March 2014. The commission still needs one more commissioner appointed to meet the minimum legal requirements on number of commissioners and to effectively provide the secretariat with the necessary policy and strategic guidance. The commission despite having limited resources and personnel at both policy and technical level accomplished set targets for the year towards delivery of the mandate and functions of the commission.

During the reporting period, the commission contributed towards development of legal instruments and policies responsive to issues of equity and inclusion of vulnerable populations in national and county government development agenda. The commission made inputs in more than 15 laws in both levels of government and in more than five draft policies. The commission contributed in the international reporting processes on treaties and conventions Kenya has ratified on issues of equality and inclusion. The reports included providing additional information or responding to past concluding observations.

During the reporting period, the commission undertook strategic activities on mainstreaming issues of equity and inclusion in political, economic and social spheres of life. Notably, the commission assessed levels of emerging exclusions in land and natural resource management among communities living in rich mineral deposit areas. The outcome of the assessment will be used to inform the Extractive Industries Transparency Policy for Kenya. The commission also audited cash transfer programs for persons with severe disabilities, orphans and vulnerable children and older members of the society. The recommendations of the report were used by the national machinery ministries to improve targeting, operations and coverage of the programs. The results will be useful in the implementation of the social safety and security programs in Kenya. In effort to attainment of equity and inclusion in the political representation, Office of the Attorney General nominated NGEN to convene a technical working group to develop a plausible framework for implementation of article 27 and 100 of the constitution. The commission has gathered and collated varying opinions and views on this subject.

During the year, the commission faced some challenges. Key among them is the ability to fully operationalize the devolution strategy for the commission during the year due to limited resources. Also, the commission has inadequate number of staff particularly in director level to steer the implementation program established every year. The number of commissioners is below the threshold set in the constitution leading to inadequate capacity to set necessary strategies for the commission to fulfill its mandate. Over the last year, the commission visibility levels remained low in the communities and among most vulnerable populations. It is my hope that most of these challenges will be effectively addressed in the 2014/15 financial year

Winfred Osimbo Lichuma. EBS
Chairperson

III. FOREWARD BY NGENC COMMISSION SECRETARY

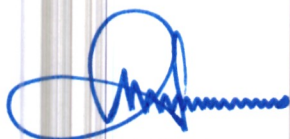

During 2013-2014 FY, the Commission has progressively grown programmatically and in establishing a competent and dedicated secretarial team, which supported the Commission in operationalization of its mandate. The Commission moved from its initial location at NSSF building, 24th Floor to Solution Tech Place building, Upper Hill, 1st, 2nd and 3rd Floors to ensure adequate space for staff and also opened three regional offices in Garissa, Nakuru and Kisumu.

The Commission has been able to achieve on its wide mandate of monitoring, auditing, coordinating, advising and investigating as well as reporting to the Government & International fora and implementation of its 2013-2015 Strategic Plan. Guided by the Strategic objectives, numerous projects have been accomplished which includes; review of laws, advisories, Litigation, handling of complaints and investigations, monitoring of GBV, public education and awareness of SIGs, entrenching principles of equality and inclusion in the private sector, facilitated adoption of gender responsive budgeting amongst others. The Commission is determined to undertake more activities and achieve more on its mandate with continued support by the Government and other agencies.

The objectives in the 2013-2015 Strategic Plan which have led to recording of the aforementioned achievements are;

1. Creation of an enabling environment to achieve equality in compliance with the Constitution and other written laws and international treaties
2. Provision of comprehensive and adequate responses to sexual and gender based violence
3. Mainstreaming needs and issues of SIGs in development at National and County Government systems and private institutions
4. Advocating for financing of substantive equality at all levels
5. Building an effective, efficient and sustainable institution visible at all levels

The Commission is determined to develop data base on equity and inclusion, establish private sector incentives for integration of gender equality and freedom from discrimination, carry out an assessment of status of boy child in Kenya's affirmative action programs, audit the status of charitable children Institutions and also carry out an audit on equality and inclusion of the free primary education within the next financial year. The Commission therefore looks forward to achieving its vision and mission through continued support by the Government and other agencies henceforth ensuring gender equality, inclusion and non-discrimination for all.

Paul Kuria.
Ag. Commission Secretary/CEO.

KENYA NATIONAL AUDIT OFFICE

REPORT OF THE AUDITOR-GENERAL ON NATIONAL GENDER AND EQUALITY COMMISSION FOR THE YEAR ENDED 30 JUNE 2014

REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

I have audited the accompanying financial statements of National Gender and Equality Commission set out on pages 6 to 18, which comprise the statement of financial assets as at 30 June 2014, and the statement of receipts and payments, statement of cash flow and a summary statement of appropriation: recurrent for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information in accordance with the provisions of Article 229 of the Constitution of Kenya and Section 8 of the Public Audit Act, 2003. I have obtained all the information and explanations which, to the best of my knowledge and belief, were necessary for the purpose of the audit.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with International Public Sector Accounting Standards (Cash Basis) and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatements, whether due to fraud or error.

The management is also responsible for the submission of the financial statements to the Auditor-General in accordance with the provisions of Section 4 of the Public Audit Act, 2003.

Auditor-General's Responsibility

My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on the audit and report in accordance with the provisions of Section 9 of the Public Audit Act, 2003. The audit was conducted in accordance with International Standards on Auditing. Those standards require compliance with ethical requirements and that the audit be planned and performed to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

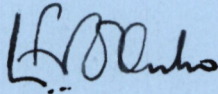

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Commission's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by the management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

I believe that the audit evidence obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my audit opinion.

Opinion

In my opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Commission as at 30 June 2014, and of its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended, in accordance with International Public Sector Accounting Standards (Cash Basis) and comply with National Gender and Equality Commission Act, 2011.

I. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND EXPLANATORY NOTES

The principle accounting policies adopted in the preparation of these financial statements are set out below:

(a) Statement of compliance and basis of preparation

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with and comply with International Public Sector Accounting Standards (IPSAS) with particular emphasis on Cash Basis Financial Reporting under the Cash Basis of Accounting. The financial statements comply with and conform to the form of presentation prescribed by the Public Sector Accounting Standards Board of Kenya.

The financial statements are presented in Kenya Shillings, which is the functional and reporting currency of NGECC and all values are rounded to the nearest thousand (Kshs'000). The accounting policies adopted have been consistently applied to all the years presented.

The financial statements have been prepared on the cash basis following the Government's standard chart of accounts. The cash basis of accounting recognises transactions and events only when cash is received or paid by the NGECC.

(b) Recognition of revenue and expenses

NGECC recognises all revenues from the various sources when the event occurs and the related cash has actually been received by the NGECC. In addition, NGECC recognises all expenses when the event occurs and the related cash has actually been paid out by NGECC.

(c) In-kind contributions

In-kind contributions are donations that are made to NGECC in the form of actual goods and/or services rather than in money or cash terms. These donations may include vehicles, equipment or personnel services. Where the financial value received for in-kind contributions can be reliably determined, the NGECC includes such value in the statement of receipts and payments both as revenue and as an expense in equal and opposite amounts; otherwise, the contribution is not recorded.

(d) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand and cash at bank, short-term deposits on call and highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less, which are readily convertible to known amounts of cash and are subject to insignificant risk of changes in value. Bank account balances include amounts held at the Central Bank of Kenya and at various commercial banks at the end of the financial year. For the purposes of these financial statements, cash and cash equivalents also include short term cash imprests and advances to authorised public officers and/or institutions which were not surrendered or accounted for at the end of the financial year.

(e) Pending bills

Pending bills consist of unpaid liabilities at the end of the financial year arising from contracted goods or services during the year or in past years. As pending bills do not involve the payment of cash in the reporting period, they recorded as 'memorandum' or 'off-balance' items to provide a sense of the overall net cash position of NGEC at the end of the year. When the pending bills are finally settled, such payments are included in the statement of receipts and payments in the year in which the payments are made.

(f) Budget

The budget is developed on the same accounting basis (cash basis), the same accounts classification basis, and for the same period as the financial statements. NGEC's budget was approved as required by Law and as detailed in the Government of Kenya Budget Printed Estimates. A high-level assessment of NGEC actual performance against the comparable budget for the financial year under review has been included in an annex to these financial statements.

(g) Comparative figures

Where necessary comparative figures for the previous financial year have been amended or reconfigured to conform to the required changes in presentation.

(h) Subsequent events

There have been no events subsequent to the financial year end with a significant impact on the financial statements for the year ended June 30, 2014.
