4. Minutes of sittings of the Committee on the consideration of the Bill are attached to this report as annexure 1.

2. ANALYSIS OF THE BILL

2.1 Memorandum of objects and reasons of the Bill

The Constitution of Kenya (Amendment) (No. 2) Bill 2018 (National Assembly Bill No. 5)

5. Prior to the promulgation of the Constitution in 2010, elections were traditionally held in December. Thereafter, the Constitution was enacted in 2010 with Articles 101(1) (election of members of the National Assembly), Article 136 (2) (election of the President), Article 177(1) (election of Members of County Assemblies) and Article 180(1) (election of Governors) stipulating the date of the general election of the aforementioned representatives as the second Tuesday of August of every fifth year after the previous general election.
6. An attempt to change the election date to December was made through a Bill sponsored by Hon. David Ochieng then Member of Parliament for Ugenya in the Eleventh Parliament. Though the Departmental Committee on Justice and Legal Affairs recommended to the House to pass the Bill as provided for by the Member, the House failed to realize the two-thirds majority support required to pass it under Article 256(1) (d) of the Constitution of Kenya.
7. The principal objective of the Bill is to amend Articles 101 (1), 136 (2) (a), 177 (1) (a) and 180 (1) of the Constitution by changing the existing date of general elections for Members of Parliament, the President, Members of County Assemblies and the county governors and deputy county governors from second Tuesday of August in every fifth year to third Monday in December in every fifth year.
8. The Bill seeks to introduce a new date for conducting a general election that would be more favourable to Kenya's circumstances.
9. The amendment is to ensure that the date of elections reflects the unique circumstances and tradition of Kenya. The current date for the general elections unduly disrupts the education calendar and most importantly the conduct of national examinations in case of either a fresh election or a "run-off" or an invalidation of a Presidential election.
10. The amendment further seeks to restore the tourism high season and the aspirations of a section of Kenyans who are not able to get time out of their busy schedules to take part in the general elections at their places of preference. The amendment will also clarify and put to rest all doubts regarding the exact date of the next general elections and the term of the current Parliament.
11. The Bill concerns county governments within the meaning of Article 110 of the Constitution. The enactment of this Bill will occasion additional expenditure of public funds.

12. The Bill was read a first time on 14th March, 2018 and immediately committed to the Committee for review and report to the House in line with the provisions of Standing Order 216(5)(c) of the National Assembly Standing Orders. While reviewing the Bill, the Committee was required by Article 118 (1) (a) and (b) as well as Standing Order 127(3) to facilitate public participation in the review of the Bill.

Article 118(1)(a) and (b) of the Constitution provides as follows-

“118(1) Parliament shall-

- (a) conduct its business in an open manner, and its sittings and those of committees shall be open to the public; and*
- (b) facilitate public participation and involvement in the legislative and other business of Parliament and its Committees”*

Standing Order 127(3) provides as follows-

“The Departmental Committee to which a Bill is committed shall facilitate public participation on the Bill through appropriate mechanisms including-

- (a) inviting submission of memoranda;*
- (b) holding public hearings;*
- (c) consulting relevant stakeholders in a sector; and*
- (d) consulting experts on technical subjects”*

13. The Clerk of the National Assembly accordingly put up advertisements in the local dailies on 20th and 21st March 2018 (see annex 3) calling for submission of memoranda and received memoranda. The Committee pursuant to local daily newspapers of 9th May, 2018 (see annex 4) conducted public hearings on the Bill in selected counties countrywide. The public hearings took place in Nairobi, Machakos, Mombasa, Kisumu, Kakamega, Uasin Gishu, Nakuru, Nyeri, Isiolo, Wajir and Turkana during which members of the public either individually or representing institutions and organizations made oral presentations and/or submitted. The Committee took into account all public views while considering the Bill.

2.2. Clauses in the Bill

2.2.1 Proposed amendment to Article 101 of the Constitution

Clause 2 of the Bill seeks to amend Article 101 of the Constitution of Kenya by deleting the words “second Tuesday in August” appearing in clause (1) and substituting therefor the words “third Monday in December”.

2.2.2 Proposed amendment to Article 136 of the Constitution

Clause 3 of the Bill seeks to amend Article 136 of the Constitution of Kenya in clause (2) by deleting the word “second Tuesday in August” appearing in paragraph (a) and substituting therefor the words “third Monday in December”.

2.2.3 Proposed amendment to Article 177 of the Constitution

Clause 4 of the Bill seeks to amend Article 177 of the Constitution of Kenya in clause (1) by deleting the words “second Tuesday in August” appearing in paragraph (a) and substituting therefor the words “third Monday in December”.

Further and pursuant to an advertisement in the local daily newspapers of 9th May, 2018, the Committee conducted public hearings on the Bill in selected counties.

17. In addition to receiving memoranda from the public and in order to facilitate comprehensive public participation, the Committee undertook public hearings in eleven strategically located counties to obtain views from different regions of the Country as follows-

32. A comprehensive list of members of the public who attended the public hearings in the various counties is in Volume II of the report.

33. The written submissions received are in Volume II of the report. Additionally, a matrix noting the general comments in support of or against the amendment is attached to this Volume of the report as annexure 6. The matrix also documents various proposed amendments to the Bills by members of the public and institutions.

34. As illustrated in the matrix (Volume II), in analysing the views received from the public, the Committee members categorised views raised by the public as follows:

- (i) Views in support of the amendments;
- (ii) Views opposed to the amendments;
- (iii) Proposed amendments to the Bill; and
- (iv) General views from the public not relating to the amendments.

3.4 Views from the public

35. A total of one hundred and forty-seven (147) persons or institutions/ groups submitted either oral or written submissions in support of the amendments while fifty-nine (59) persons or institutions/ groups rejected the proposals in the Bill. Analysis of these submissions shows that there is an overwhelming support for change of the election date to the third Monday in December.

36. In summary, the Committee received views as follows:

Source	Comments in support of amendments	Comments against amendments
Institutions	26	8
Individuals	121	51
Total	147	59
Percentage of total views received	71.4%	28.6%

37. The Committee observed that a large number (about 60%) of the persons who presented their views did not give substantive reasons for their support or opposition to the amendments. However, those who supported the amendments averred as follows-

- a) The December election date would be less disruptive to the academic calendar for secondary and primary schools. Students ordinarily sit the national examinations in the third term of an academic year which normally comes after the August vacation. The public was of the view that the date of the general elections would be best suited to be scheduled in December as students had long finished their examinations. The August date had also proven inconvenient to students because most public schools are used as polling stations;
- b) A date in December would be convenient and would increase voter turnout because most Kenyans are ordinarily on holiday or have travelled upcountry to vote;
- c) The December date was historically sound as it had been successfully tried and tested many times before; and
- d) The December date was ideal due to favourable weather conditions unlike August when it is rainy and farmers are engaged in agricultural activities.

38. The Committee observed that while some members of the public did not give reasons for objecting to the amendments, those who gave reasons cited the following-

- a) The August election date was ideal as it was in tandem with the commencement of the Government financial year which commences in July;
- b) Those who may have registered as voters in areas of their ordinary residence normally travel for holidays or to the rural areas and are unable to vote in their areas of residence;
- c) The proposed amendment was for selfish political reasons as it would effectively increase the term of the current Parliament;
- d) In the past, some of the elections held in December had resulted in post-election violence;
- e) The academic calendar could be modified if need be to accommodate an August general election date.
- f) The month in which general elections are held did not matter as long as the elections were free and fair.

4 CONSIDERATION OF THE PROPOSED AMENDMENTS BY THE COMMITTEE

4.1.1 Proposed amendment to Article 101 of the Constitution

Clause 2 of the Bill seeks to amend Article 101 of the Constitution of Kenya by deleting the words “second Tuesday in August” appearing in clause (1) and substituting therefor the word “third Monday in December”.

Observation

The Committee observed that the effect of the amendment if passed would be a change of election date for Members of Parliament to the third Monday of December of every fifth year after previous general elections.

4.1.2 Proposed amendment to Article 136 of the Constitution

Clause 3 of the Bill seeks to amend Article 136 of the Constitution of Kenya in clause (2) by deleting the word “second Tuesday in August” appearing in paragraph (a) and substituting therefor the words “third Monday in December”.

Observation

The Committee observed that the effect of the amendment if passed would be a change of the election date for Members of County Assemblies to the third Monday of December of every fifth year after the previous general elections.

4.1.3 Proposed amendment to Article 177 of the Constitution

Clause 4 of the Bill seeks to amend Article 177 of the Constitution of Kenya in clause (1) by deleting the words “second Tuesday in August” appearing in paragraph (a) and substituting therefor the words “third Monday in December”.

Observation

The Committee observed that the effect of the amendment if passed would be a change of the election date for the President to the third Monday of December of every fifth year after the previous general elections.

4.1.4 Proposed amendment to Article 180 of the Constitution

Clause 5 of the Bill seeks to amend Article 180 of the Constitution is amended in clause (1) by deleting the words “second Tuesday in August” and substituting therefor the words “third Monday in December”.

Observation

The Committee observed that the effect of the amendment if passed would be a change of the election date for County Governors and Deputy Governors to the third Monday of December of every fifth year after the previous general elections.

4.2 Public submissions and proposed amendments

- (a) Mr. Douglas Kwalelo of Kakamega proposed that general elections should be staggered to different dates for the respective elective positions. He submitted that having elections of Presidential, parliamentary and other elective positions on the same day was cumbersome and that it may be one of the factors fuelling tension in the country.
- (b) Mr. Yabbesh Onyancha proposed that the electioneering period should be shortened to one week and that the voting day should be increased to six days with each day for the elections for each seat.

5 COMMITTEE OBSERVATIONS

5.1 Committee Observations

The Committee observed as follows-

- (a) The Hon. Speaker in his communication of 20th August 2015 guided that no amendments could be proposed to a Bill seeking to amend the Constitution unless there was something extraordinary in the Bill that would require application of extraordinary measures;

- (b) In view of the Hon Speaker's ruling of 20th August, 2015, the Committee did not adopt further amendments based on the public views;
- (c) The members of the public who appeared before the Committee to present their views overwhelmingly supported change of election date to December;
- (d) The Committee considered the various reports prepared during the Constitution of Kenya review process, including the report by the Committee of Experts on constitutional reforms, the report of the Commission for Constitution Reform of Kenya, the final report of the Constitution of Kenya Review Commission and noted that the reports did not elaborate on the rationale for the change of the date of general elections from December to August.

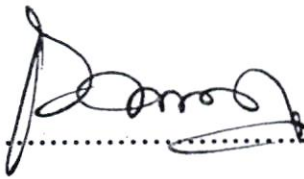

6. RECOMMENDATION

The Committee recommends that the proposed amendments in the Bill be agreed to by the House without amendments.

6.0. DISSENTING OPINION

Hon. Peter Opondo Kaluma M.P. registered a dissenting opinion to the report on the following grounds-

- (a) The date of the general elections was changed from December to August following extensive public participation and consultation leading up to the promulgation of the Constitution of Kenya, 2010;
- (b) The memorandum of objects and reasons in the Bill evinces no good reasons to revert the date of general elections to December;
- (c) The amendments have the effect of altering the term of office of the President and as such, pursuant to Article 255, the Bill therefore ought to be first subjected to a popular referendum prior to adoption by the House;
- (d) People should vote for leaders in areas they reside full time as opposed to voting for leaders in areas where they are on holiday in December;
- (e) The Presidential election process including petition should be concluded in a year general elections are held to avoid a situation where two years are affected by elections.

MIN No. 225/2018:- CONSIDERATION AND ADOPTION OF REPORT ON THE CONSTITUTION OF KENYA (AMENDMENT) (No. 2) BILL, 2018, (NATIONAL ASSEMBLY BILLS NO. 5)

The Committee considered and adopted its report on the Constitution of Kenya (Amendment) (No. 2) Bill, 2018 (National Assembly Bills No. 5) seeking to change the general election date from second Tuesday of August to third Monday of December in every year of election. Hon. Peter Kaluma M.P. registered his dissenting opinion on the report on the following grounds-

- (a) The date of the general elections was changed from December to August following extensive public participation and consultation leading up to the promulgation of the Constitution of Kenya in the year 2010;
- (b) The memorandum of objects and reasons in the Bill evinces no good reasons to revert the date of general elections to December;

- (c) The amendments have the effect of altering the term of office of the President and pursuant to Article 255 of the Constitution of Kenya, the Bill should be subjected to a popular referendum prior to adoption by the House;
- (d) Kenyans should vote for leaders in areas they reside full time or better part of their time as opposed to voting in areas where they are on holiday in December;
- (e) The Presidential election process including petition challenging results should be concluded in the year the general elections are held to avoid a situation where two (2) years are affected by the elections.

MIN No. 226/2018:- CONSIDERATION AND ADOPTION OF REPORT ON THE CONSTITUTION OF KENYA (AMENDMENT) BILL (NATIONAL ASSEMBLY BILLS No. 4)

The Committee considered and adopted its report on the Constitution of Kenya (Amendment) Bill, 2018 (National Assembly Bill No. 4). Hon. Peter Kaluma M.P. registered a dissenting view to the report on the following grounds-

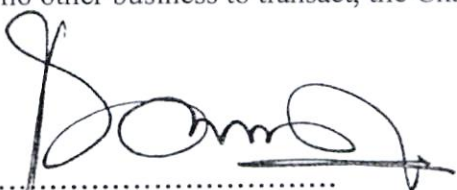

- a) Article 27(8) of the Constitution requires the State to take legislative measures to ensure the implementation of the principle that no more than two-thirds of the members of elective positions shall be of the same gender. The import of this requirement is that Parliament should enact legislation to implement the principle and not by way of amendment to the Constitution.
- b) The Bill proposes realization of the two-thirds gender principle by way of nomination which is not democratic.

MIN No. 227 /2018:- ANY OTHER BUSINESS

The Committee considered a request from Hon. Dennitah Ghati, HSC, M.P. to appear before it to make representations on clause 3(a) of the Constitution of Kenya (Amendment) Bill (No. 2), 2018 (National Assembly Bills No. 4) and resolved that she appears on Thursday, 9th August 2018 at 10.00 a.m.

CONSIDERATION OF THE DRAFT REPORT ON THE CONSTITUTION OF KENYA (AMENDMENT) BILL, 2018 ON CHANGE OF GENERAL ELECTION DATE FROM AUGUST TO DECEMBER

The Committee considered the draft report on the public hearings on the Constitution of Kenya Amendment Bill, 2018 on the change of the date of the General Election from August to December during which-

- (i) The Legal Counsel informed the Committee that pursuant to the Speaker's ruling during the 11th Parliament, he guided that the question as to whether the enactment of the Bill would result in extension of the term of the President and Parliament thereby necessitating a referendum could only be determined by the High Court;
- (ii) The secretariat presented to the Committee a breakdown in figures and percentages on the public participation during the public hearings.

The adoption of the report was deferred to the next sitting though Hon. Peter Opondo Kaluma indicated that he would be dissenting to the amendment to change the election date on the following grounds-

- (a) The date of the general elections was changed from December to August following extensive public participation leading up to the promulgation of the Constitution of Kenya, 2010;
- (b) The memorandum of objects and reasons in the Bill evinces no good reasons to revert the date of general elections to December;
- (c) The amendments would alter the term of the President and pursuant to Article 255 of the constitution, the Bill ought to be first subjected to a popular referendum prior to adoption by the House.

The Committee noted that there was need for Parliament to legislate laws to govern public participation after experiencing instances during hearings where the public became unruly demanding to be paid for attending hearings.

CONSIDERATION OF THE DRAFT REPORT ON THE CONSTITUTION OF KENYA (AMENDMENT) BILL, 2018 ON CHANGE OF GENERAL ELECTION DATE FROM AUGUST
TO DECEMBER

Mr. Salem Lorot, Legal Counsel II took the Committee through the draft report and matrix on public hearings on the Constitution of Kenya Amendment Bill, 2018 on the change of the general elections date from August to December. The hearings were conducted in the counties of Nairobi, Machakos, Mombasa, Nakuru, Nyeri, Isiolo, Eldoret, Kakamega, Lodwar, Wajir and Kisumu in May, 2018 to collate public views on the Bill.

The Committee observed as follows-

- (i) Most of the groups which made submissions on the Bill were politically organized;
- (ii) Change of election date may mean extension of the term of President and Parliament which require referendum;
- (iii) There was need to sensitize the public through voter education on its role and importance of participating in the law-making process after the public in some of the counties demanded to paid for attending hearings.

The Committee resolved as follows-

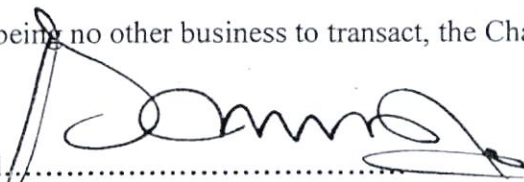

- (i) The percentage of the public hearing coverage and how the public was invited to give views be captured in the report;
- (ii) Historical background and the guidelines on how the current general election date was arrived at be indicated in the report to guide the Committee on decision making; and
- (iii) The adoption of the report be deferred pending confirmation by the Legal Counsel whether the Bill's enactment would extend the term of the President and Parliament and if so, whether a referendum was necessary.

GOVERNANCE

Rethink governance to grow economy

Kenya has lived in denial of a narrow economic policy crisis and always painted a rosy picture of growth. It seems to lack leadership with courage, vision and political conviction to accept the nature of its economic policy and instead chooses the easy pacifying route.

The government knows the depth of corruption and inflated payments of goods and services within but has adamantly refused to purge graft. It keeps skirting this fact and inventing rhetoric to avoid tackling it head-on.

Our political system is criminally corrupt. It is about looting and plundering national wealth and resources. It does not produce, expand and grow the economy but extracts what is available. Sadly, leadership with the foresight and will to challenge this tradition remains elusive.

The public has been demanding an end to irresponsible and corrupt public finance management but the political system has been intransigent in response.

Top political leadership must purge corruption and reduce deficit. It is time the government shed its own fat before spreading its hands to taxpayers. The Constitution is not the problem; it is failure to bring all government systems, institutions and processes in tandem with it.

Kenyans should demand balanced budgets and prudent public spending with no sacred cows or ring-fencing of departmental budgets and also that government programmes and spending be cut before increasing taxes.

Further, it is important to streamline the national planning policy to put county plans at the heart of development and growth with greater devolution of power and resources with stringent accountability.

The counties need to be remarkably effective at instigating and delivering mega projects. This would create jobs, help businesses to flourish and allow active exploration of opportunities to deliver new infrastructure programmes leveraging investment from pension funds, attracting inward investment and pursuing greater freedom to be active in the bond markets.

There has to be a crystal-clear vision of the role of the government in the economy with political conviction and determination to act and the following immediate measures suffice.

First, rationalise and peg public officers' earnings on performance and productivity and ensure no official is in private employ.

Secondly, effectively and substantially reduce the cost of government. There are many unnecessary governmental agencies and parastatals. The government must bite the bullet. It is people who produce the goods and services.

Thirdly, the governance system must be drastically rationalised, restructured and harmonised to accord with and respect devolution, streamlining machinery, reducing size and trimming costs. The public sector is nothing more than an overhead; it does not add to the economy. It is a burden.

Snoop on citizens

Fourth, the government should focus only on things that are within its purview. A significant number of government personnel and resources are diverted to non-productive activities — such as using its size and power to snoop on citizens rather than emancipate them through superior education, healthcare, security and such other critical social services.

Fifth, redefine economic and social policy to invest in counties to expand, diversify and build a technologically innovative, knowledge-based more equitable and inclusive economy.

Sixth, make corruption in government the most punitive venture. A large public sector inhibits development of a vibrant private sector and government-linked agencies actively compete with and stunt development.

Finally, redefine and transform the civil service into a highly productive, innovative, responsive and objective one that competently supports the well-being and prosperity of the country and turn the development vector from a narrow, consumption-based economy into a broad, well-grounded knowledge investment-oriented one.

With a new constitutional order, adoption of a devolved system of governance and service delivery, together with escalating global competition, Kenya should build a civil service based on professionalism, efficiency and integrity with a high standard of discipline, skills and accountability. Such a civil service is the transforming and propelling engine for advancement of the country's economics, security and governance.

ENVIRONMENT

Dialogue and education will save forests

Our forests and tree cover constitute a valuable socio-economic resource that should be nurtured. But that will not happen unless all understand what is at stake and their role in the effort to reclaim the forests and economically usable land.

Continuous education and dialogue for communities living off forests, most of whom rely on grapevine misinformation about the government's "ill intentions" is necessary. To ensure a critical mass of the citizenry is pro-conservation, environmental education should permeate through the rank and file.

Our investment in this resource cannot be left to cartels, whose only interest is immediate gain. Notably, we have a law cited in several statutes. And we have institutions to administer and enforce that law. After the on-going forest audit is complete, the war against logging, charcoal burning and other reckless human activities must be relentless.

Technologies meant to shift demand for fuel from charcoal — such as biogas, geothermal and solar — need to be upscaled to relieve pressure from wood as the primary source of energy.

Honourable Members,

In conclusion, Standing Order 154 requires the National Assembly to consider the President's reservations within 21 days. In this regard, the National Employment Authority Bill, 2015 stands committed to the Departmental Committee on Labour and Social Welfare, while the Small Claims Court Bill, 2015 is committed to the Departmental Committee on Justice and Legal Affairs for further consideration. The Committees should table their reports by February 22, 2016. In considering the Memoranda, regard will be given to the guidance given by the Speaker in a Communication delivered on July 28, 2015 concerning consideration of Presidential Memorandum and amendments thereto, particularly my guidance, that amendments by a Committee or an individual Member that have the effect of fully accommodating the Presidential reservations will not attract two thirds requirement for passage.

Honourable Members,

I wish to remind the House and the Committees that only clauses of the Bills for which the President has made reservations will be reconsidered by the House.

I Thank you!

THE HON. JUSTIN B. MUTURI, EGH, MP
SPEAKER OF THE NATIONAL ASSEMBLY
