The Hon Speaker vide a communication made on Thursday, 3rd November 2022 conveyed to the House the Message from H.E. the President and subsequently referred names of the nominees, curricula vitae, and the report of the selection panel on their recruitment to Departmental Committees for approval hearings. While referring the matter to the Committees, the Speaker directed that the Committees undertake the vetting exercise within twenty-eight (28) days pursuant to Section 8 of the Public Appointments Parliamentary Approval Act (No. 33 of 2011). The Speaker further directed the Clerk of the National Assembly to notify the nominees and the general public by placing adverts in two newspapers of nationwide circulation and the Parliamentary Website of the time and place of holding the approval hearings by Friday, 4th November 2022.

In compliance with Article 118 (b) of the Constitution and section 6 (4) of the Public Appointments (Parliamentary Approval) Act (No. 33 of 2011), the Clerk of the National Assembly placed an advertisement in the print media on Friday, 4th November 2022 informing the public of the nomination, date, time and place of the approval hearing. He also invited the public to submit memoranda by way of written statements on oath (affidavit) on the suitability of the nominees in conformity with section 6 (9) of the Public Appointments (Parliamentary Approval) Act (No. 33 of 2011). The memoranda were to be received on or before Friday, 11th November 2022 at 5.00 p.m. (East African Time). 3.3.2 Other Issues under Consideration

137. To examine the suitability or otherwise of the nominee, the Committee engaged the nominee in the following thematic areas to determine his knowledge of the sector:

On opportunities available for Kenyans in the DRC

138. The nominee appreciated the Committee and by extension the House for allowing KDF to go for the peacekeeping mission noting that there were many opportunities in DRC being a big country, having a huge population, and being the seventh (7th) and the newest member of East African Community. He further averred that maintaining peace and order in DRC was important to Kenya since a major Bank in Kenya had invested in the country and was doing really well, hence sighting employment opportunities for citizens of this country. The nominee submitted that despite Kenya spending a lot on the peacekeeping mission, the large population that DRC has of about 95 million people creates a very large market for Kenyan products.

On bearing the Expensive burden of peacekeeping in the East African Community.

139. The nominee stated that it was expensive to undertake the peacekeeping mission in DRC but the treaty signed by the EAC Members ensures that the cost is shared among all member states so as to have equity for all members since each country is regarded as an equal partner.

On hostilities at the Namanga border

140. The nominee stated that the East African Community discourages any taxes by member states. However, he noted that as countries protect their markets, they end up imposing some tariffs and non-tariff barriers hence making it challenging to trade smoothly. The nominee stated that he will engage the EAC counties in talks to ensure that the several tariffs and non-tariff barriers that have been imposed are dealt with to facilitate smooth trade.

On the issue the of free movement of cattle and wildlife between Tanzania and Kenya

141. The nominee stated that he will spearhead efforts in engaging Tanzania to ensure that this matter does not create conflicts between the two counties.

On the issue of his suitability for the job

142. The nominee informed the Committee that he had 23 years of experience from the private sector, informing that the role of a Principal Secretary is majorly accounting and he comes along with experience in finance and accounting. The nominee further stated that this will ensure that his department acts within the law. He further submitted that he is a team leader and he is able to extract the productivity in teams. The nominee further noted that Kenya has one of the best civil services and that he will ensure results are realized.

On commitments to the vision of the EAC

143. The nominee noted that the EAC was a huge block and that it had a lot of potential. If the block's integration went on smoothly, it would form the bedrock of Pan-African integration. He however noted that decision-making within the block was premised on consensus which was slow. If appointed, he promised to do whatever he could to ensure all the pillars of the integration project were realized.

On Somalia Joining the EAC

144. The nominee informed the Committee that EAC gives us power in numbers as it attracts multinational companies and even investors in the block and so since there are some stipulated guidelines for member countries to join, he stated that just like DRC, Somalia and Ethiopia should adopt the same steps on the process of joining EAC and this will help actualize trade because of the large population.

On the issue of Regional Development Authorities (RDAs)

145. The nominee noted that regional bodies under RDAs are underfunded and hence the poor performance but he submitted that if approved, he would seek more funding to the budget to help actualize the potential of the bodies.

On Conflicts arising from shared natural resources (Serengeti, Masai Mara, Migingo and Lake Victoria)

146. The nominee stated that he wasn't familiar with the conflicts in the Mara and Serengeti areas. However, he stated that the EAC treaty does not provide any regulations on sharing of natural resources. He stated that the disproportionate sharing of resources led to the collapse of EAC in 1977. However, the nominee submitted that he would engage partner states bordering Kenya in both multilateral and bilateral talks to enhance tourism and address the issue of shared resources to avoid conflicts between member states. On the issue of Migingo Island, the nominee submitted that if appointed, there would be a need for EAC to standardize fishing equipment and to mark maritime borders to help stop conflicts between the counties that share Lake Victoria.

On most EAC countries being dependent on Kenya, hence burdening Kenya

147. The nominee stated that it was okay for Kenya to continue being the good neighbour and the big brother it is. He further stated that Kenya should sensitize citizens with regards to this market and let them take advantage of the free trade area since Kenya has an upper hand with regard to trade and other opportunities. On other Member States not paying up their dues, he averred that he would lead bilateral talks to ensure that all parties contribute their share of the budget to the EAC to ensure financial stability of the block and ensure Kenya doesn't bear the burden alone.

On deployment of soldiers to DRC by member states save for Tanzania

148. The nominee submitted that it was important for all member states to honour the treaties signed. However, he stated that initiatives would be put in place to see to it that forces are sent by other member states who have not done.

6. The Committee confirmed that the nominee had been cleared by KRA, ORPP, DCI, EACC and HELB, having obtained clearance documents to that effect.

To examine the suitability or otherwise of the nominee, the Committee engaged the nominee in the following thematic areas to determine his knowledge of the sector:

- a) On opportunities available for Kenyans in the DRC, he appreciated the Committee and by extension the House for allowing KDF to go for the peacekeeping mission noting that there were many opportunities in DRC being a big country, having a huge population, and being the seventh (7th) and the newest member of East African Community. He further averred that maintaining peace and order in DRC was important to Kenya since a major Bank in Kenya had invested in the country and was doing really well, hence sighting employment opportunities for citizens of this country. The nominee submitted that despite Kenya spending a lot on the peacekeeping mission, the large population that DRC has of about 95 million people creates a very large market for Kenyan products.
- b) On bearing the Expensive burden of peacekeeping in the East African Community, the nominee stated that it was expensive to undertake the peacekeeping mission in DRC but the treaty signed by the EAC Members ensures that the cost is shared among all member states so as to have equity for all members since each country is regarded as an equal partner.
- c) On hostilities at the Namanga border, he stated that the East African Community discourages any taxes by member states. However, he noted that as countries protect their markets, they end up imposing some tariffs and non-tariff barriers hence making it challenging to trade smoothly. The nominee stated that he will engage the EAC counties in talks to ensure that the several tariffs and non-tariff barriers that have been imposed are dealt with to facilitate smooth trade.
- d) On the issue the of free movement of cattle and wildlife between Tanzania and Kenya, he stated that he will spearhead efforts in engaging Tanzania to ensure that this matter does not create conflicts between the two counties.

- e) On the issue of his suitability for the job, he informed the Committee that he had 23 years of experience from the private sector, informing that the role of a Principal Secretary is majorly accounting and he comes along with experience in finance and accounting. The nominee further stated that this will ensure that his department acts within the law. He further submitted that he is a team leader and he is able to extract the productivity in teams. The nominee further noted that Kenya has one of the best civil services and that he will ensure results are realized.
- f) On commitments to the vision of the EAC, he noted that the EAC was a huge block and that it had a lot of potential. If the block's integration went on smoothly, it would form the bedrock of Pan-African integration. He however noted that decision-making within the block was premised on consensus which was slow. If appointed, he promised to do whatever he could to ensure all the pillars of the integration project were realized.
- g) On Somalia Joining the EAC, he informed the Committee that EAC gives us power in numbers as it attracts multinational companies and even investors in the block and so since there are some stipulated guidelines for member countries to join, he stated that just like DRC, Somalia and Ethiopia should adopt the same steps on the process of joining EAC and this will help actualize trade because of the large population.
- h) On the issue of Regional Development Authorities (RDAs), the nominee noted that regional bodies under RDAs are underfunded and hence the poor performance but he submitted that if approved, he would seek more funding to the budget to help actualize the potential of the bodies.
- i) On Conflicts arising from shared natural resources (Serengeti, Masai Mara, Migingo and Lake Victoria), he stated that he wasn't familiar with the conflicts in the Mara and Serengeti areas. However, he stated that the EAC treaty does not provide any regulations on sharing of natural resources. He stated that the disproportionate sharing of resources led to the collapse of EAC in 1977. However, the nominee submitted that he would engage partner states bordering Kenya in both multilateral and bilateral talks to enhance tourism and address the issue of shared resources to avoid conflicts between member states. On the issue of Migingo Island, the nominee submitted that if appointed, there would be a need for EAC to standardize fishing equipment and to mark maritime borders to help stop conflicts between the counties that share Lake Victoria.
- j) On most EAC countries being dependent on Kenya, hence burdening Kenya, the nominee stated that it was okay for Kenya to continue being the good neighbour and the big brother it is. He further stated that Kenya should sensitize citizens with regards to this market and let them take advantage of the free trade area since Kenya has an upper hand with regard to trade and other opportunities. On other Member States not paying up their dues, he averred that he would lead bilateral talks to ensure that all parties contribute their share of the budget to the EAC to ensure financial stability of the block and ensure Kenya doesn't bear the burden alone.
- k) On deployment of soldiers to DRC by member states save for Tanzania, he submitted that it was important for all member states to honour the treaties signed. However, he stated that initiatives would be put in place to see to it that forces are sent by other member states who have not done.

To examine suitability or otherwise of the nominee, the Committee engaged him on the following thematic areas to determine his knowledge of the sector:

- a) On the Sensitive Nature of the Defence Docket and His Political Past, the nominee averred that being a politician would not affect his professionalism. His professionalism would not allow him to say things which need not to be said. He dismissed the idea that politicians are not serious people and urged Kenyans to understand that politicians are serious professionals who make very important decisions for the country.
- b) On Mental Health Interventions, the nominee appreciated that mental health issues cut across all segments of society, including the disciplined forces. He appreciated that there were already existing welfare stations in Langata Barracks that assist military officers to deal with issues of mental health.
- c) On the issue of Somalia-Kenya Relations, the nominee averred that he understood that the Somalia issue was a big one for the country. He stated that he supported the idea of the KDF incursion into Somalia as it helped in the containment of terrorist attacks in Kenya. He further stated that the African Union (AU) has clear guidelines on the length of stay in Somalia. He opined that the KDF went to Somalia for the sake of the security of Kenyans and that the mission had borne fruits.
- d) On Implementing Austerity Measures in the Defence Docket, the nominee submitted that the key issues for consideration would be transparency and accountability. He stated that he understood that every sector must contribute in managing the fiscal challenges of the country. He would therefore revisit some budgets in order to align with the measures directed by the President. The main targets for implementation of austerity measures would - include training, purchase of motor vehicles and other internal operations. He however informed the Committee that some areas were sensitive and would not be affected.

- e) On His Net Worth, the nominee stated that his net worth was Ksh.185 million. He further expounded on his net worth stating that it included savings in two Saccos and in his bank account. The second goal was modernization of the KDF to ensure they grow and operate with the modern technology. The third goal was ensuring the welfare of both uniformed and other officers at the Ministry.
 - g) On Kenya Meat Commission (KMC) being managed by KDF but placed under the Ministry of Agriculture, the nominee appreciated that the military involvement in KMC was a success story because many Kenyans who were not getting paid by KMC were getting paid courtesy of the KDF management. He stated that the KDF was still managing KMC, however, according to the Executive Order No. 1 of 2022, the KMC was under the Ministry of Agriculture and not under the Ministry of Defence. He submitted that there will be discussions within the government on the issue of transition and appropriate reporting lines noting that the military could not report to a different Ministry other than the parent Ministry of Defence.
 - h) On Pending Bills at the State Department, the nominee submitted that the pending Bills had been paid out on a continuing basis, especially after the Presidential directive on the same. However, the process had been hampered by lack of exchequer. He promised to look at the pending bills that must be dealt with within the fiscal space of the country. On pending bills arising from court awards, he affirmed that a close working relationship with the office of the Attorney General was paramount and that he would give more support to the Ministry's legal department to appeal the awards where possible.
 - i) On Objectively Handling allegations of Atrocities Committed by the British Army Training Unit in Kenya (BATUK) that is Based in Laikipia, his Home County, the nominee stated that the operations of the BATUK were within Bilateral and Multi-lateral agreements on Defence cooperation. The nominee affirmed that he would not be emotional in any way when dealing with the British army in Laikipia, being his home county, and considering the previous disputes that had arisen. He further stated that he would work within the framework of defence cooperation between the two countries.
 - j) On Fairness and Corruption During the Annual Recruitment of KDF Personnel, the nominee stated that the Ministry has an explicit policy on the recruitment process. He explained that the process of recruitment takes into account the population of each sub-county and the already existing number of KDF officers from each sub-county in order to attain regional balance. He submitted that the issue of Kenyans being lured by fake advertisements should be taken up by the DCI. The Ministry of Defence had very stringent measures on bribery and any officer suspected of such is dealt with by the court marshals.
 - k) On Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR), the nominee stated that the Ministry of Defence has some humanitarian programs which work with the civilian authorities to support civilian programs. He noted that if confirmed, he would scrutinize the budget of the Ministry with the view of establishing how much more the Ministry can support CSR.

- l) On Dealing with Classified Information Regarding Expenditure in the Ministry, the nominee submitted that the Auditor General audits all funds appropriated to the Ministry. However, considering the sensitivity of some expenditures on national security, the Department of Defence (DOD) cannot make public the purchases they make. The nominee averred that he had no intentions of breaking away from the norms and practices at the Ministry.
- m) On Building Capacity on Utilization of the Kenya Shipyards Limited Facility, the nominee appreciated the construction of the shipyard facility and promised to ensure that there will be value addition and proper utilization of the facility.
- n) On the Return on Investment on the DRC Military Deployment, the nominee submitted that DRC is a member of the EAC and that the stability of the country had implications for regional stability and by extension Kenya's stability. He explained that political, diplomatic and military engagements were being explored to stabilize the DRC. He opined that it was worthwhile to pursue stabilization of the DRC due to the many interests Kenya had in the DRC and the region. He maintained that Kenya's engagement in DRC was not a unilateral decision but was as a result of the EAC Heads of States concurrence on the same matter. The nominee noted that all the EAC countries were already engaged apart from Tanzania, which had indicated it would join later.

6. The Committee confirmed that the nominee had been cleared by KRA, ORPP, DCI, EACC and HELB, having obtained clearance documents to that effect.

To examine suitability or otherwise of the nominee, the Committee engaged the nominee on the following thematic areas to determine his knowledge on the sector:

- a) On the place of African countries in global institutions like the United Nations, the nominee acknowledged that the global system, which was conceptualized after the Second World War demonstrated an inability to cope with current global challenges and wasn't representative because it was negotiated at a time when African states were not parties. This he noted disadvantaged countries from Africa. He further noted that recent events such as the Covid-19 Pandemic and the invasion of other countries by superpowers suggested the need for reforms of the current systems. He also noted that one of the initiatives championed by H.E. the President of the Republic of Kenya was building back after the Covid pandemic, suggesting that the international system needed to incorporate those left behind. He pledged to work towards establishing a group of countries in Africa to begin negotiating for a common voice by the continent in bodies such as the UN Security Council.

- b) On balancing the sovereignty of the people and the sovereignty of the state, the nominee stated that the Constitution placed the People at the core of sovereignty within Kenya's borders and that Kenya would maintain its external sovereignty in relation to other countries.
- c) On relations between Kenya and the Middle East particularly on the issue of migrant workers, the nominee characterized the problem as the sourcing, processing, and the terms in which the migrant workers are employed and suggested that there be clarity about the terms of engagement for Kenyan citizens working in the Middle East specifically as domestic workers. He stated that they would develop a joint monitoring mechanism between the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and the Ministry of Labour to ensure that Kenyans did not go to work in the Middle East without the knowledge of Kenyan authorities. He also suggested the need to leverage on technology in order to access information in real time and proposed managing the identification of the migrant workers and the nature of their employment as well as setting up a monitoring system within a digital framework. He recommended the use of the Vienna Convention on Consular Relations to defend Kenyan citizens working abroad by providing consular assistance to Kenyans in distress.
- d) On the value of Kenya's missions abroad, the nominee stated that the goal of Kenya's foreign policy was to project, promote and project Kenya's image and interests globally and that those were the roles played by Kenya's missions. The nominee acknowledged that Kenya was not getting value from the said missions and pledged to focus on the issue with a view of re-centering Kenya's diplomacy around commercial diplomacy. He pledged to re-formulate the strategic plan, to establish fitness for purpose of Kenya's ambassadors and to advise the Cabinet Secretary about the need to strengthen Kenya's missions abroad. The nominee pledged to use performance contracting to hold heads of missions accountable, which would enable Kenyans benefit from the said missions.
- e) On balancing between political and career diplomats at the Ministry, the nominee acknowledged that most diplomats were political appointees. He pointed out the need to consider the extent to which career diplomats could be promoted to serve versus political appointments but stated that this was within the power of the appointing authority. As to the positions of Cabinet Secretaries and Principal Secretaries he noted that comparatively throughout the world, the said positions were rarely held by members of staff since the said positions served broader strategic ends of the head of state. He however emphasized the need to have career diplomats be largely considered for ambassadorial positions.
- f) On the Nominee's investments abroad, the nominee acknowledged owning property in North Carolina in the US. He informed the Committee that his wife is American and that the home was bought together with her while he was working for the US Agency for International Development. He however reiterated his commitment to invest in Kenya.
- g) On the nominee's action plan to integrate himself within the Civil Service, the nominee pointed to his experience within the African Union, the International Criminal Court and litigation on the law of the sea as having enabled him to create an excellent relationship with officials in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. He pledged to be deliberate in ensuring that they worked as a team and to leverage the competencies of the Ministry's staff to advance Kenya's foreign relations and interests.

- h) On kneejerk diplomacy policies, the nominee pointed out that Kenya's diplomatic engagements were guided by the Constitution, the Treaty Making and Ratification Act, the Foreign Service Act, and Kenya's foreign policy. He noted that Kenya had a consistent response to issues and that the perception of knee-jerk policies may be due to the communication strategy. He pledged to have a clear communication strategy when dealing with other nations and ensuring that Kenya's position is understood.
- i) On conflict of roles between the State Departments of Foreign Affairs and Diaspora Affairs, the nominee welcomed the need for establishment of a dedicated department to focus on and serve the need of the 1.5 million Kenyans in the diaspora and stated that the two State Departments would complement each other.
- j) On challenges of access to new generation passports by Kenyans living abroad, the nominee termed the issue of access to new-generation passports as the biggest challenge facing Kenyans in the diaspora. He emphasized the need for the State Department of Diaspora Affairs which would deal with the issue of consular needs of the Kenyan diaspora.
- k) On difficulty in making remittances to the Middle East, the Nominee stated that Saudi Arabia ranked third in remittances to Kenya. He attributed the challenge of remittances to the sanctions regime and the lack of proper representation at the institutions issuing the sanctions thus constraining Kenya's interests. He stated that there was a need for the continent to do more to address the inequality within the international system.
- l) On tapping skills and experience of Kenyans working abroad, the nominee suggested the employment of Kenyans already in the diaspora within Kenya's foreign missions in order to reduce the cost of running the missions. He acknowledged the skills and competencies of Kenyans abroad and the need to bring them home and deploy them towards Kenya's economic agenda.
- m) On high budgetary allocations for foreign trips in the Ministry and the possibility of officers in foreign missions representing the country instead, the nominee stated that one of the ways the country promoted and projected its image and interests globally was through high level meetings. He further stated that although foreign travel was inevitable and a majority of foreign trips were legitimate, it was an area they would continuously look at with a view of reducing costs.
- n) On extradition of Kenyan citizens and the need for repatriation of Kenyan citizens in distress in the Middle East, the nominee pointed to existing extradition treaties between Kenya and other countries and the reciprocal provisions therein and termed it as part of Kenya's responsibility as a member of the global community. He acknowledged the need for a repatriation policy but stated that there was a need to balance it with the right to work, individual pursuit, and self-determination.
- o) On securing a safe working environment for Kenyan youth abroad, the nominee stated that the reason for Kenya's involvement in peacekeeping in other countries was to expand Kenya's market, which would enable Kenyan youth to work in the said countries and increase opportunities for the expansion of Kenyan businesses.
- p) On separation of the Nominee's previous affiliations with donors when representing minorities and the role for which he is nominated for appointment in the Public Service, the Nominee assured the Committee that there would be no conflict of interest and that he would leverage previous relationships to make partnerships.
- q) On staffing of Kenyan missions abroad, the nominee pledged to engage in the process of staff rationalizing to ensure that there was neither overstaffing nor understaffing of Kenya's missions.

- r) On the possible duplicity of a foreign travel budget for the Office of the President within the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and within the Office of the President, he pledged to review the issue of foreign travel, to confer with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs and examine the foreign travel budget in the ministry vis-a-vis the budget for foreign travel within the Office of the President.
- s) On the current administration's policy on external financing of projects, he informed the Committee that the President was tapping foreign direct investment in the Country given the existing fiscal limitations and that the focus on certain nations was not informed by a change in policy but by the country's debt situation
- t) On amendments to the Treaty Making and Ratification Act, 2012, he suggested that the Act, which provides the procedure for the making and ratification of treaties and connected purposes, lacked a proper implementation framework and that the proposal to amend it would focus on its implementation framework.
