IV. MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRMAN

At the time of writing this Foreword, important changes with far reaching ramifications in the fight against corruption had taken place in Kenya. Parliament enacted the Ethics and Anti-Corruption Commission Act, 2011 which established the Ethics and Anti-Corruption Commission (EACC) to replace Kenya-Anti-Corruption Commission (KACC). The enactment is in line with the requirement of the Constitution of Kenya which mandated Parliament to enact legislation to establish an independent ethics and anti-corruption commission for the purposes of enforcement of Chapter 6 of the Constitution and any other legislation made pursuant thereto.

The EACC Act brought into force a Commission whose organizational structure is completely different from that hitherto existing under KACC. The structure under EACC effectively abolishes the Advisory Board, the office the Director and Assistant Directors. My message in this annual report thus doubles up as an obituary for the Advisory Board.

Be that as it may, the statutory changes have also brought some positive elements the most important of which is the anchorage of the new Commission in the Constitution. This effectively shields the Commission from threats of disbandment by adversaries of the anti-corruption war. Luckily, such a move will now require a Constitutional amendment which might not be easy to achieve especially if driven by short-term personal interests.

It is however disturbing to note that in a period of about 10 years the anti-corruption agency has undergone reconstitution a record four times. This began with the declaration of Kenya Anti-Corruption Authority as unconstitutional and its consequential disbandment in 2000. The Authority was succeeded by Anti-Corruption Police Unit which was dissolved following the establishment of KACC through enactment of the Anti-Corruption and Economic Crimes Act, 2003. KACC has now been replaced by EACC following enactment of the EACC Act, 2011. I thank Kenyans for ensuring a firm foundation is laid for the new Commission through entrenchment in the Constitution.

The period under review marked the first anniversary in office for the outgoing management team that was recruited by the outgoing Advisory Board. I salute and extend my sincere and warmest gratitude to the outgoing Director, Professor PLO Lumumba and his team for the courage, determination and tireless contribution exhibited during the period they steered the war against corruption. I have no doubt that as at the time of their departure, the war against corruption had gained momentum and was destined for greater heights.

The Advisory Board continued to render advice and complemented the Commission's activities. The Board members participated in the Commission's outreach programmes. In addition, the Board undertook study tours to India, China and Hong Kong and participated in an inter-ministerial study tour to South Africa to benchmark best practices in the fight against corruption.

I am also pleased to note that the period saw a strategic increase in the staff compliment from 273 to 366 together with the extension of the Commission's services to other regions in the country with the opening of offices in Garissa, Nyeri and Eldoret. Plans are also underway to open offices in Bungoma and Embu. It is the hope of the outgoing Advisory Board that the incoming Commissioners will find it worthy to have the presence of EACC in all counties.

Despite the determination and passion of staff, who I must say, have made sterling contribution to the fight against corruption, the Commission continued to face myriad challenges. These included the setback in commencing construction of the Commission's headquarters at Karen due to objections lodged by the Karengata Association at the National Environment Tribunal. Happily though, the objection has since been withdrawn and the project would hopefully take off to address office space constraints.

Slow judicial process continued to impact negatively on the work of the Commission. However, with an invigorated Judiciary, an independent Director of Public Prosecution and a constitutionally backed EACC, I am hopeful that a new partnership in the justice system by the said bodies will hasten the adjudication and conclusion of corruption cases. It is anticipated that the partnership will facilitate speedy disposal of corruption cases and enhance conviction rate. Only then can we make corruption an unattractive and costly venture.

Having had a quick glance at the new EACC Act that was enacted at a time when Parliament was immensely under pressure to beat Constitutional deadlines I have no doubt some urgent amendments to fill some gaps that arose from the hasty passage of the Bill will be necessary. I hope the National Assembly will stand firmly by the new Commission and become the bastion for a robust and effective war against corruption in Kenya.

In conclusion, I encourage the staff of the Commission to remain steadfast in the war against corruption. I have no doubt that the impending vetting might be quite unsettling but God brings men into deep waters not to drown them, but to cleanse them. I trust you will all overcome and emerge stronger. We all place the remaining journey on the war against corruption in your hands.

As the Advisory Board exits, I take this opportunity to remind Kenyans that corruption still poses a big threat to our national development. I therefore appeal to all of us to continually put the anti-corruption war on the front burner.

God bless Kenya.

VI. MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

The writing of the foreword to this annual report marks two events of significance but of opposite effect to the Commission. On the one hand, it is the first full year report under my stewardship as Director, having joined the Commission in July 2010 while on the other; I do so on my way out following the abolition of the office of the Director and Assistant Directors through the enactment of Ethics and Anti-Corruption Commission Act, 2011.

The promulgation of the new Constitution on the 27th, August 2010 while presenting an opportunity to enlarge and sharpen the institutional as well as legislative framework for fighting corruption has yet to have the desired effect in the fight against corruption.

In order to align the Commission to the Constitution as well as have a more robust anti-corruption legislation incorporating recommendations contained in the United Nations Convention Against Corruption (UNCAC) Gap Analysis, the Commission worked closely with the Ministry of Justice, National Cohesion and Constitutional Affairs, State Law Office, Kenya Law Reform Commission, National Assembly and UNODC among others to formulate and develop the desired Bill for enactment by Parliament. However most of the recommendations that were discussed and deemed appropriate by these stakeholders and recommended for incorporation in the proposed legislation, did not find favour with the Constitution Implementation Commission (CIC), the Cabinet and ultimately Parliament with the effect that the Ethics and Anti-Corruption Commission Act as enacted has significantly weakened institutional as well as legal framework for the fight against corruption.

The failure to grant the Commission the power to prosecute for corruption, to perform lifestyle audits and to use new investigative techniques is a blow to the Commission's desire to escalate the fight against corruption. Besides the failure to make proper provisions on transition that would have guaranteed the protection of on-going investigations has not only slowed to almost a halt the Commission's momentum, but has created an air of uncertainty among the staff of the Commission.

In the past one year, however, the Management and staff of the Commission escalated the daunting task of steering the country towards a corruption free society. During this period the Commission prepared a three-year strategic plan charting out its path, expected achievements for the next five years in the fight against corruption. Further, the High Court cleared the Commission as a competent authority for the purposes of entering into Mutual Legal Assistance (MLA) with foreign governments.

The last twelve 12 months saw the Commission intervene and disrupt a possible loss of public funds in excess of KShs 1.51 billion. Some of the public bodies that were targeted include NSSF, Sotik Town Council, Kitutu Chache CDF and the Postal Corporation of Kenya.

The Commission during the year submitted a total of 134 files to the Attorney General recommending 113 files for prosecution, 16 for closure and 5 for administrative or other action taken. 62 files are already before the Courts.

In the discharge of the Preventive mandate the Commission provided advisory services to over 423 public sector institutions since inception. This activity included preparation of codes of conduct and ethics, development of institutional corruption prevention policies and risk assessments. It established Adili Clubs in schools and higher education institutions to instill good moral values in the youth.

Within the past twelve months, the Commission hosted and participated in international conferences and meetings where its activities and programs were applauded. The efforts being made by KACC in fighting corruption in the country were appreciated by all despite the political challenges it faced. As I have stated in other fora, the fight against corruption requires concerted efforts by all but more importantly the political will.

In order to accelerate recovery of public property in the hands of corrupt individuals, the Commission in conjunction with the Attorney General and the Minister for Justice National Cohesion and Constitutional Affairs recently developed and published Amnesty request to people willing to return public property irregularly acquired. This strategy is intended to aid in the war against corruption and does not equate to blanket forgiveness. An admission of guilt must be entered and necessary restitution offered by the offender.

Let me conclude by appealing to you as a fellow Kenyan not to despair in your desire to have a corruption-free society. My departure after such a short time should not discourage men and women of goodwill from taking the mantle from where I reached, to continue the fight. We must take courage from the words of the 26th American President T. Roosevelt who said: -

"In the battle of life it is not the critic who counts, nor the one who points out how the strong person stumbled, or whether the doer of a deed could have done better.

The credit belongs to the person who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood, who strives valiantly, who errs and come short again and again, because there is not effort without error and shortcoming. Who does actually strive to do deed, who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotion, spends oneself in a worthy cause, who at best know in the end the triumph of high achievement, and who at worst, if he or she fails at least while daring greatly far better it is to dare mighty things.

To win glorious triumphs even though checkered by failure, than to rant with those timid spirits.

Who neither enjoy nor suffer much, because they live in the grey twilight that knows neither victory nor defeat".

Thank you and God bless you.

PROF. PLO LUMUMBA, PhD
DIRECTOR/CHIEF EXECUTIVE

1. BACKGROUND

1.1 INTRODUCTION

This Annual Report is issued by the Ethics and Anti-Corruption Commission (hereafter EACC) established under Section 3 of the Ethics and Anti-Corruption Commission Act, 2011 (EACC Act), pursuant to Article 79 of the Constitution. The Annual Report is prepared pursuant to the provisions of Section 15 of ACECA now repealed under Section 37 of EACC Act. The Report outlines and documents KACC achievements in the 2010/2011 financial year in line with its Strategic Plan (2009-2013). 1.	Severe shortages of medical and other staff leading to heavy workload, delays in service delivery and corrupt conduct.	Recruit additional staff in all the facilities.
2.	Some medical officers use Government facilities to perform certain procedures on private patients without adhering to laid-down procedures. This leads to loss of revenue.	The Permanent Secretary, Ministry of Medical Services should ensure that the procedures for attending to private patients in Government hospitals are strictly adhered to.
3.	In some hospitals, proper records are not maintained for movement of laundry items. This creates a loophole for theft.	Medical Superintendents to maintain proper records on movement of laundry items.
4.	Conflict of interest of some staff members in referral of patients to private facilities even where the hospital can provide the service cheaply or for free.	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Table 22: Implementation Status of Recommendations on the Examination of the National Environment Management Authority (NEMA)

No.	Finding	Recommendation	Status
1.	Lack of a national environmental policy.	Formulation of a national environmental policy.	National Environmental Policy not formulated.
2.	Existence of numerous and conflicting sector specific legislation and lack of guidelines on the management of the environment.	Harmonization of the various sector specific laws and guidelines on the management of the environment.	Task Force on the re-orientation of EMCA to the new Constitution in place.
3.	Lack of sector specific checklists to assist environmental officers carrying out these inspections.	Develop and apply sector specific environmental management checklists.	NEMA has already developed an inspection manual; a document that provides technical and procedural guidance to environmental inspectors. The Inspectors have been trained on the same.
4.	Inadequate capacity to carry out its mandate.	Enhance capacity (human, physical and financial).	Decentralization follow up is currently ongoing with the aim of addressing the challenges faced by the officers and enhancing their operational efficiency.
5.	Lack of a code of conduct leading to professional negligence by environmental Lead Experts.	Develop and enforce codes of conduct for environmental Lead Experts.	Code of Practice has been developed and issued. All practicing experts have subscribed to the code.

Table 23: Implementation Status of Recommendations on the Examination of the National Registration Bureau

No.	Finding	Recommendation	Action taken
1.	Lack of a clear national integrated policy and system on registration of persons.	An all inclusive and consultative process of preparing a comprehensive national policy on registration to address all aspects of registration of persons such as births, death, Identity cards, passports, refugees and aliens. In addition, the policy should address the implementation and operations of the proposed Integrated Population Registration System (IPRS).	A taskforce chaired by the Director of registration of persons on behalf of the PS ministry of immigration is in place and various registration instruments are being reviewed. Membership is drawn from various other institutions such as KRA, Ministry of Lands and ministry of justice among others.

No.	Finding	Recommendation	Action taken
2.	At the time of the Examination, registration offices in the field had no method of making enquiries to the Head office on the status of delayed identity cards.	The Permanent Secretary Ministry of State for Immigration and Registration of Persons should ensure that the Bureau develops clear channels of receiving complaints and feedback mechanisms to ensure that customers receive information without delays to avoid exploitation by unscrupulous persons.	The Bureau has implemented an SMS system which is being used by applicants to check on the status of the ID production.
3.	Delays in surrendering and banking revenue. Misappropriation of revenue through issuance of IOU and failure to surrender all the receipts timely.	All monies collected by the District Registrars should be banked intact and pay in slips surrendered to the District Accountants for receipting. Enhancing supervision to ensure compliance with the government revenue collection and surrender procedures.	Adoption of direct banking of money collected to the Ministry's account using electronic funds transfer (EFT) adopted by the Ministry. Enhanced supervision to ensure that funds and receipts are surrendered timely.
4.	Supporting travel claims with forged and altered receipts.	Ensuring that all officers who visit the Head Office for official duty sign a register and are issued with a letter indicating details of their visit. The letter should be used to complement other imprest surrender documents.	All trips to Head Office are supported by approvals from the provincial Coordinators and staff report to the newly created department on field services.
5.	Procurement of most of office requirements at the head office including stationery and Registration forms 101 and 136A. This creates opportunity for frequent travel to the head office to collect items, some of which are readily available in most parts of the Country. The Bureau therefore incurs a lot of expenditure in terms of traveling allowances and fuel which far outweigh the value of materials collected. This practice has led to situations where field officers apply for imprest under the pretext of traveling to the Head Office.	Decentralization of procurement of common user items by allocating District Registrars funds through the normal Authority to Incur Expenditure (AIE) to purchase standard items which are available at the District level through the e District Tender Committees. The Head Office should continue to procure, store and distribute registration materials such as Identity Cards, registration forms and other materials like films, cameras, and finger print ink for security purposes. However, distribution of the above to the field offices should be done through regional deliveries either at the Province or through a cluster of Districts conveniently identified.	The Bureau decentralized the procurement of common user items during the 2010/2011 financial year and allocated budgets to the District offices for this item. In addition, procurement is being undertaken in liaison with the District procurement committees. Registration materials are being collected from the provincial coordinators and other designated areas nearer to the registration offices in the field.

No.	Finding	Recommendation	Action taken
6.	At the time of the Examination, those who lost ID cards were required to pay KShs 20 for abstracts at a police station. Some police stations could not provide receipts for payment of KShs 20. and were referred to District Treasuries. The delay inconveniences applicants and may create room for extortion.	The Permanent Secretary Ministry of State for Immigration and Registration of Persons should liaise with the Permanent Secretary Ministry of State for Provincial Administration and Internal Security and Commission of Police to facilitate availability of receipt books for abstracts in all police stations.	Commissioner of police directed that the police abstract are issued free of charge. This has reduced delay in issuance of IDs and the associated corruption opportunities.

5.3.2 Public Education and Awareness

Education, Training and Awareness programmes aim at improving governance, fostering integrity and enhancing the provision of public goods and services. The programmes are conducted through a number of activities that enlist and foster public support in the fight against corruption in Kenya. In the reporting year, KACC undertook public education awareness as follows:

i). Media Education

Mass media inform, educate and entertain various segments of society. The Commission used the following products and methods in disseminating good governance, anti-corruption, ethics and integrity content tailored to meet the needs of members of the public:

- a). Radio spots, infomercials, filmlets and documentary – KACC produced and aired 25 radio spots, 15 TV infomercials, 5 filmlets, and one (1) documentary. These products focused on KACC, its programmes and achievements, challenges, arenas of corruption in various sectors, messages on integrity and community empowerment and methods of disrupting corruption. The products were aired on KTN, NTV, Citizen TV, K24, Family TV, Kiss TV, Classic TV, Factual Films and selected radio stations. As a result, the Commission was able to reach majority of Kenyans.
- b). Presenter Mentions: KACC engaged the publicity services of Star FM, Sifa FM, Baraka FM, Milele FM, Sayari FM, KBC Western Station and Nosim FM stations through presenter mentions during the regional anti-corruption outreach clinics in 15 counties. In addition, KACC had live interviews and call-ins on Star FM, Sifa FM, Kass FM, Sayari TV, Sayari Radio, Koch FM and Pamoja FM stations during the Outreach Clinics in the counties. Through this channel, the Commission was able to engage citizens in a topical discussion on good governance and anti-corruption activities.

The programme sought to empower communities to participate in the fight against corruption at the local level. KACC trained 112 representatives of civil society organizations as community based anti-corruption monitors and facilitators to equip them with skills and knowledge to detect, monitor and report corruption practices in their localities. In addition, the facilitators and monitors were trained on corruption prevention strategies. One of the key outputs of the training was the formation of a National Integrity Network to co-ordinate corruption prevention activities at the national and regional levels.

iii). Regional Anti-Corruption Outreach Clinics

KACC conducted Regional Anti-Corruption Outreach Clinics in fifteen (15) counties namely; Kilifi, Mombasa, Kisii, Migori, Kisumu, Kakamega, Nairobi, Kiambu, Kajiado, Kitui, Machakos, Nyeri, Garissa, Uasin Gishu and Narok. It is estimated that over 30,000 persons were reached and 29,298 IEC Materials disseminated.

5.4 RESEARCH INTO CORRUPTION AND GOVERNANCE ISSUES

Research undertaken by the Commission provides empirical evidence on causes and effects of corruption. It also assesses the outcomes and impacts of anti-corruption and governance related measures. The research work at the Commission is complimented by other research institutions, government agencies and non-state agencies such as Transparency International. The year under review saw marked improvement in governance in Kenya as indicated by the East African Bribery Index 2011. According to the survey, the Country was ranked as the 2nd least corrupt country compared to the third position in 2010.

The result of various intervention measures undertaken by the Commission in the war against corruption are highlighted as follows.

5.4.1 National Corruption Perception Survey 2010

The National Corruption Perception Survey (NCPS) provides data and information on corruption (forms, causes, rate, extent, magnitude etc) and assesses changes in the quality of service delivery in the public service and improvement in governance in general. The 2010 Survey established that:

- i). The number of households who think that the rate of corruption is very high in Kenya declined from 66.7 percent in 2008 to 49.9 percent in 2010. This implies a reduced level of corruption in the country in 2010 when compared to 2008 as perceived by households.
- ii). Giving and taking of bribes continued to be cited as the leading form of corruption (90.0%) in the country followed by favoritism (21.9%), abuse of office (18.5%), extortion (15.2%), misuse and misappropriation of public resources such as CDF, LATF etc (11.2%) and fraud (8.3%).
- iii). The leading causes of corruption in Kenya were cited as Greed/Selfishness (59.7%), Poverty (35.4%), Poor Terms and Conditions of Work (14.8%), Unemployment (13.8%), Delay in Service Delivery (11.3%), Ignorance/Illiteracy (8.2%), Cultural Reasons (5.8%), Patronage (4.2%) and High Cost of Living (3.1%) as shown in Figure 7.

iv). Among the households who sought services from public offices, 42.8 percent of them were asked to pay a bribe in 2010 compared to 30.5 % in 2008. Trends on bribery payments are shown in Figure 8. The average bribe showed a marked increment for those who paid to be served in the public offices visited from 3,665 in 2008 to KShs 6,206 in 2010.

- v). The most corrupt government ministries as perceived by households are the Ministry of State for Provincial Administration and Internal Security (71%), the Ministry of Medical Services (27.9%), Ministry of Lands (14.2%), Ministry of Education (13.5%), Ministry of Local Government (11.4%) and Ministry of Immigration and Registration of Persons (11.4%) as shown in Figure 9.

- vi). The most corrupt officials as perceived by households were Civic Leaders (37.5%), Members of Parliament (37.2%), Ministers/Assistants Ministers (32.4%) and Senior Government Officials/Heads of Departments (32.3%). Conversely, 39.8 and 20 percent of households perceived Leaders of Religious Organizations and Leaders of NGOs, respectively to be least corrupt.
- vii). In terms of effectiveness of Government efforts to fight corruption, 63.2 percent of the respondents think that the Government is currently handling the fight against corruption well, while 29 percent think that the Government is not doing well.
- viii). Households ranked the Media (37.7%), Religious Organizations (24%) and KACC (23.4%) as very effective in the fight against corruption. On the contrary, institutions that were ranked as not effective in the fight against corruption were the Kenya Police (40.9%), Administration Police (35%), Office of the Attorney General (25.2%) and the Courts (24.7%).
- ix). Over half of the households (53.65%) do not know where to report corruption as opposed to 46 percent who know.

5.4.2 Diagnostic Study on Corruption in the Municipal Council of Mombasa

The Study sought to establish nature, forms, magnitude and impacts of corruption at the Council. It also evaluated the effectiveness of various anti-corruption reforms implemented at the Council. The Study involved interviewing customers and staff of the Council. It revealed that:

- i). Corruption is a common phenomenon (62.1%) at the Municipal Council of Mombasa (MCM).
- ii). The leading causes of corruption at the Council are; Poor Remuneration of Staff (23.2%), Poor Supervision of Staff (20.5%), and Greed (20.5%). Other causes cited included lack of clear policies to guide Council operations and intense interference from Councilors.
- iii). Bribery is the most common form of corruption at the Council (33.6%). Other forms of corruption cited included Nepotism, Abuse of Office and Implementation of Unplanned Projects. . The average amount of bribe paid to Council Officers was KShs 9,279. According to the Study, 39.7 percent of Clients who paid a bribe indicated that they paid because it was demanded by Council Officers to render services, whereas 41.3 percent of Clients said they usually pay bribes to obtain services. Further, 7.9 percent of Clients paid due to long delays in accessing services.
- iv). The most corruption prone departments at the Council included the Inspectorate Department (49.2%) followed by the Town Treasurer's Department (22.3%).
- v). The council officers interviewed indicated that the adverse impacts of corruption at the Council included poor service delivery, loss of revenue, high costs of operations, recruitment and deployment of incompetent personnel to key positions leading to ineffectiveness.
- vi). Departments that render poorest services are the Town Engineer's Department (47.1%), and the Inspectorate Department (25.0%).
- vii). The reform efforts that were bearing fruit in the fight against corruption at the Council included centralization of revenue collection points which led to reduced revenue leakages; development and implementation of Anti-corruption policy; and mainstreaming of departmental customer service charters throughout the Council.

The key recommendations arising from the study include:

- i). There is need for a comprehensive review of Council bylaws to address the obsolete bylaws and to make them consistent with other laws governing local authorities. Further, the Council by-laws and operating procedures should be widely disseminated within the Council and among service seekers and the public in general since they are crucial to combating corruption.
- ii). The Commission should enhance its engagement with the Council in ensuring implementation of corruption prevention measures and where - corrupt activity is identified appropriate measures taken to deal with culprits

- iii). Measures should be taken in a targeted and in-depth manner to undertake systems and operations audit of the Inspectorate and the Town Treasurer's Departments, which were found to be most prone to corruption. This should include identification and sanctioning of perpetrators of corruption.
 - iv). There is need to enhance publicity of anti-corruption strategies and reforms measures being implemented at the Council so as to generate necessary interest, commitment and ownership among staff and stakeholders towards enhancing performance and service delivery. This will enhance support and sustainability of the reform measures, especially those already bearing fruit
 - v). The Council ought to embrace a policy of decentralization in service delivery so as to enhance reach to services and meet public expectations. In addition, guidelines and service delivery benchmarks should be developed and made public for use by the service seekers. Access points for various services should be made public.
 - vi). Service delivery improvements should mainly target the Town Engineer's and the Inspectorate Departments which were found to provide poorest services at the Council.
 - vii). The council should adopt open, transparent and accountable systems of human resource management and development, particularly relating to recruitment, promotion and disciplinary matters. In addition, the Council should recruit and deploy competent and qualified personnel in all functional and operational areas. Further, a policy of periodic transfers of Officers to curb corrupt conduct to should be adopted.

5.4.3 On-going Research Activities

- i). Sectoral Perspectives on Corruption in Kenya: The Case of Service Delivery in the Lands Sector;
- ii). Development of the Monitoring and Evaluation Framework for the Commission to guide the process of monitoring and evaluating the Commission's programmes and activities so as to continuously determine progress made (outputs, outcomes and impact) and to draw lessons for organizational learning and improvement;
- iii). Evaluation of the Integrity Assurance Officers Programme; and
- iv). Evaluation of National Penetration of IEC Materials.

5.4.4 Implementation of the National Anti-Corruption Plan (NACP)

KACC undertook corruption prevention activities, conducted public education and awareness, enhanced its institutional capacity and made proposals towards strengthening the legal framework in the fight against corruption as outlined in the National Anti-Corruption Plan. It also continued to support the operations of the Kenya Integrity Forum Secretariat, planning and review meetings.

KACC sponsored the 5th Annual Integrity Review Conference which was held at the Kenya Institute of Administration on 7th and 8th December 2010. In addition, KACC supported an external assessment of the sectors' performance in the implementation of NACP. The assessment revealed that 72 percent of the planned activities had been implemented in the last 5 years. The performance of sectors in the implementation of the Plan is presented in Figure 10 using a scale of 0 to 4 where 0 represents minimum and 4 maximum performance. As shown in the Figure, KACC recorded an impressive performance on the implementation of the Plan.

8. CHALLENGES AND WAY FORWARD

8.1 CHALLENGES

The achievements made during the reporting year were not without challenges. The major challenges encountered are highlighted below.

8.1.1 Policy and Legal Framework

Kenya still lacks a national anti-corruption policy to guide the fight against corruption which has led to uncoordinated efforts in the fight against corruption. This, coupled with a weak legal framework in investigation and asset recovery, affected KACC's capacity to deliver on its mandate.

8.1.2 Slow Judicial Process and Adverse Court Decisions

The slow judicial process remained one of the major challenges to expeditious disposal of cases in Court. This is characterized by frequent transfer of presiding judges and magistrates and case backlogs in court. The slow judicial process was further exacerbated by the revocation of irregularly acquired titles to public land by the Registrar of Titles which affected recovery suits and led to numerous Constitutional Reference and Judicial Review Applications. Furthermore, some Courts issued adverse judicial decisions which stopped investigations or prosecution of cases.

8.1.3 Enforcement of Corruption Prevention Recommendations

Lack of a statutory enforcement mechanism continued to undermine the implementation of KACC's corruption prevention recommendations to public institutions.

8.1.4 Inadequate Capacity

KACC continued to face the challenge of human resource capacity to enable it expand its services countrywide. In the devolved system of governance, there will be need for the Commission to have countrywide presence and bring services closer to the people.

8.2 WAY FORWARD

The Ethics and Anti-Corruption Commission, being the successor of KACC, ought to use the lessons learnt by KACC in enhancing the fight against corruption and promoting sound ethical standards and practices in the public sector. It is anticipated that the EACC will align its Strategic Plan to the EACC Act and the Constitution.

The new constitutional dispensation offers various legislative and institutional reform measures to enhance investigative, prosecutorial and judicial processes which will address some of the above challenges. It is expected that EACC will be properly resourced to effectively implement its mandate including providing access of its services to all parts of the Republic in accordance with the Constitution.

KENYA NATIONAL AUDIT OFFICE

REPORT OF THE AUDITOR-GENERAL ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF KENYA ANTI-CORRUPTION COMMISSION FOR THE YEAR ENDED 30 JUNE 2011

I have audited the accompanying financial statements of Kenya Anti-Corruption Commission as set out at pages 6 to 17 which comprise the Statement of Financial Position as at 30 June 2011, the Statement of Comprehensive Income, the Statement of Changes in Equity and the Statement of Cash Flows for the year then ended, and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information in accordance with the provisions of Section 14 of the Public Audit Act, 2003. I have obtained all the information and explanations which, to the best of my knowledge and belief, were necessary for the purpose of the audit.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

The Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with the International Financial Reporting Standards and for such internal controls as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Responsibility of the Auditor-General

My responsibility is to express an independent opinion on the financial statements based on the audit. The audit was conducted in accordance with the International Standards on Auditing. Those standards require compliance with ethical requirements and that the audit be planned and performed with a view to obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessments of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal controls relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Commission's internal controls. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by the Management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

I believe the audit evidence obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for my opinion.

Opinion

In my opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Commission as at 30 June 2011, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with the International Financial Reporting Standards and comply with the Anti-Corruption and Economic Crimes Act, 2003.

9.9 NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS For the year ended 30th June 2011

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The principal accounting policies adopted in the preparation of these financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented.

(i) Basis of preparation and form of presentation

The financial statements are prepared in compliance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs). The financial statements are presented in functional currency, Kenya shillings (Kshs), which is the prevailing currency within the primary economic environment, and prepared in accordance with the measurement bases prescribed by IFRSs.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with IFRS requires the use of estimates and assumptions. It also requires management to exercise its judgment in the process of applying the Commission's policies.

The financial statements are prepared in accordance with and comply with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS).

(ii) Revenue Recognition

Income is recognized in the period in which it is received. Government and donor funding is only recognized on receipt. Income is not accrued if its recoverability is considered doubtful.

Interest income is recognized on a time proportion basis using the effective interest rate method.

(iii) Revenue

The revenue consists of all funds accruing to the Commission in form of exchequer allocations, funds from development partners and other income arising from investment, sale of tenders documents and proceeds from disposal of assets

(iv) Grants

Grants related to assets, including non monetary grants at fair value, are recognized when there is reasonable assurance that the grant will be received and the Commission will comply with the conditions attaching to them.

(v) Property, Plant and Equipment

All categories of property, plant and equipment are initially recorded at cost.

Subsequent costs are included in the asset's carrying amount or recognized as a separate asset, as appropriate, only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with the item will flow to the Commission and the cost can be measured reliably. All other repairs and maintenance costs are charged to the Statement of Comprehensive Income during the financial period in which they are incurred.

Increases in the carrying amount arising from revaluation are credited to a revaluation surplus in accumulated funds. Decreases that offset previous increases of the same asset are charged against the revaluation surplus; all other decreases are charged to the Statement of Comprehensive Income. Each year the difference between depreciation charged based on the revalued carrying amount of the asset (the depreciation charged to the Statement of Comprehensive Income) and depreciation based on the asset's original cost is transferred from the revaluation surplus to retained earnings. Leasehold land is not depreciated.

Depreciation is calculated on a reducing balance basis at rates designed to write down the assets to their estimated residual values over their estimated useful lives using the following annual rates:-

	Rate per annum (%)
Computers & Software	33.33
Motor Vehicles	25.00
Plant & Equipment	12.50
Surveillance Equipment	12.50
Furniture, Fixtures & Fittings	12.50

Property, plant and equipment are periodically reviewed for impairment. Where the carrying amount of an asset is greater than its estimated recoverable amount, it is written down immediately to its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is recognized in the Statement of Comprehensive Income whenever the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount. Gains and losses on disposal of property, plant and equipment are determined by comparing the proceeds with the carrying amount and taken into account when determining the surplus for the year.

(vi) Inventories

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost and net realizable value. Cost is determined on a first-in first-out basis.

(vii) Trade and other receivables

Trade and other receivables are recognized and carried at original invoice amount less an allowance for any irrecoverable amounts. An estimate for doubtful debts is made when collection for the full amount is no longer probable. Bad debts are written off as incurred.

viii) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand; bank balances; demand deposits and short term, highly liquid investments readily convertible to known amounts of cash and subject to insignificant risk of changes in value. Cash and cash equivalents that are not readily accessible are classified under deferred assets. For the purposes of the statement of cash flow, cash and cash equivalents consist of cash in hand and deposits in bank, and short term highly liquid investments.

(ix) Trade and other payables

Liabilities for trade and other amounts payable are carried at cost which is the fair value of the consideration to be paid in the future for goods and services received, whether or not billed to the Commission.

(x) Provisions and accruals

Provisions are recognized when the Commission has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, and it is probable that there will be an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits.

(xi) Employee benefits

The Commission sets aside on a monthly basis the gratuity for its employees. This is managed separately as a sinking fund in accordance with Section 13(4) of the Anti-Corruption and Economics Crimes Act, 2003.

The Commission also contributes to a statutory defined contribution pension scheme, the National Social Security Fund (NSSF). Contributions are determined by local statute. Any contributions made to the NSSF in respect of current service are charged against income in the year of contribution.

(xii) Income taxes

The Commission being a non-trading entity is not subject to taxation. No tax is therefore provided for in these accounts.
